

Using Quality Improvement Practices to Prevent Chronic Diseases

Whitney Webber, Chronic Disease Prevention Specialist, Island County Public Health.

Liz McNett Crowl, Physical Activity Specialist, Skagit Valley Hospital. Elizabeth Wallace, Epidemiologist, Spokane Regional Health District. Heleen Dewey, Physical Activity and Nutrition Specialist, Spokane Regional Health District

© 2009 Washington State Journal of Public Health Practice. All Rights Reserved.

Abstract: Three counties in Washington State -Spokane, Island and Skagit – are participating on a quality improvement team with staff from the Washington State Department of Health. The focus of the work is increasing physical activity rates in their counties by implementing three different strategies based on best practice.